

Database Operations

Database Operations

Queries

Queries specify criteria or conditions, that identify the documents that MongoDB returns to the clients. You can optionally modify queries to impose limits, skips and sort orders.

Data Modification

Data Modification refers to operations that create, update or delete data. For the update and delete operations, you can specify the criteria to select the documents to update or remove.

